MONONGAHELA MAN ARRESTED AS ANTI-CONSCRIPTION AGITATOR

David Flaggel, Monongahela Fire Boss Under Serious Accusation

ARREST FIRST IN VALLEY

Others expected to Follow in Short Order—Federal Agents Active Throughout District—People to Help Line Up Agitators

Accused of being an anti-conscription agitator, David Flaggel, a fire boss of the Pittsburgh Coal company, living in Monongahela, was arrested Tuesday night by Sheriff F. B. Wickerham and Constable Elmer Jericho, at his home. He was taken to Washington and later to Pittsburgh where he will remain in jail awaiting the disposition of his case. Federal authorities are pushing the case.

Inasmuch as the arrest is one of the first on the charge to be made in western Pennsylvania, much sensation has been caused. Flaggel is not accused of circulating any literature in the Monongahela valley, but is charged with being connected with the Pittsburgh distributing center, which it is alleged has been active.

Many more arrests are expected to follow in western Pennsylvania. Federal agents have been active. Notices have been issued to a number of prominent people in Washington county asking them to aid in lining up agitators and to prevent any distribution of anti-conscription literature.

CHARLEROI HIGH WINS BIG MEET

Local Athletes Capture All Honors at Waynesburg Field Events

RIVA IS BEST POINT GETTER

Performing as though they never heard of the word defeat six athletes of the Charleroi high school took all honors in the interscholastic track and field meet at College field, Waynesburg, Memorial day afternoon under the auspices of Waynesburg college. The local boys scored a total of 49 points.

The other schools scored the following: Fairmont High School 10; Morgantown High School 8; Point Marion High School 7; New Athens, O., High school 7; Centerville High school 5; Waynesburg High school 3; and Blacksville High school 1.

Muddy roads that made travel in automobiles difficult resulted in one carload of a Fairmont High school and another filled with New Athens High school athletes never reaching Waynesburg.

The competition attracted a large crowd and the meet, the first ever attempted on so large a scale by Waynesburg college, was a success throughout. The event was arranged by Physical Director Garrett.

Following the meet, Dr. H. P. Houghton of Waynesburg college presented medals to the winning athletes. He awarded a special cup to Charleroi High school for scoring the greatest number of points and another to Riva of Charleroi, who was the highest individual pointgetter.

The meet was refereed by H. C. Touchman of West Virginia Wesleyan. The summary follows:

Since their arrival members of the commission have been busy paying official visits and preparing for the serious tasks which bring them to this country. The accompanying photograph shows the Italian commissioners outside the home of Joseph Leither in Dupont Circle, Washington, where they will reside while in the Capital. They are, from left to right: S. E. Borsarelli; Senator Guglielmo Marconi; Prince Ferdinando de Savoia, Prince of Udine; Francesco-Saverio Nitti, former Minister of Agriculture; Signor Augusto Ciofolli, former Minister of Public Works, and Signor Enrico Ariotta, Minister of Transportation.

RIVER IMPROVEMENTS ARE AT STANDSTILL

On Account of High Water All River Work is Discontinued—Fine Shipping Stage on Ohio Will Help in Getting Coal Tows South

On account of the high water all river improvements are at a standstill and as the river is falling slowly it will be the first of next week before a general resumption of that class of work will be possible. Budd with 210,000 bushels of coal. The Budd will be aided by the Volcano. When the two boats meet the Monitor of the same line down the river, they will exchange towns, the Monitor returning to Louisville and the Budd and Volcano returning with a large tow of empties for the upper pools.

AN INTERESTING PROCESS

Much interesting information and no end of instruction is obtainable by watching the course of the war revenue bill now on the senate side of the American congress.

The house side refused absolutely to lay any burden on cotton, the principal crop of the Democratic south. The house members were willing to tax to the extreme limit everything north of the Mason and Dixon line. The incomes of the north, where thrift, energy and enterprise provide a fruitful field for such taxes, were penalized, but the money and the wares of the south escaped without a scratch.

The Democratic house put a tax on the auto manufacturers of the north but the Democratic senate has shifted that burden to automobile owners and the prosperous north again pays the penalty.

Pennsylvania senators are consistently battling for an immediate return to the Republic policy of protection to both industry and labor. They argue that the tariff feature of the revenue bill should equitably distribute the load now being imposed upon the north. They contend that under existing conditions immense revenue is necessary, and are anxious to help in providing it, and urge that the revenue be raised in the regular Republican way.

Already congress has appropriated startling sums for war purposes. These vast sums of money must be gathered from every legitimate source. A tariff on imports will raise the necessary money with less violence to the people and with all necessary protection to capital and labor alike. Hard issues are always in high favor with the Democrats. But the redemption of bonds is with the people and is too often burdensome.

* PICKED UP IN PASSING *

A woman of intellectual tastes found it difficult to collect all the facts she wished to remember. She therefore secured the services of a professor of one of the best memory systems.

Scarcely had the professor taken his departure after a successful first lesson, when a loud double knock was heard at the front door.

"Who was that, Mary?" the lady inquired of the servant.

"Oh, if you please, ma'am," said Mary, "it was the memory man; he forgot his umbrella."—Pittsburgh Chronicle Telegraph.

An Irishman, passing a store where a notice was displayed saying that everything was sold by the yard, thought he would play a joke on the shopman, so he entered the shop and asked for a yard of milk. The shopman, not in the least taken a back, dipped his fingers in a bowl of milk and drew a line a yard long on the counter. Pat not wishing to be caught in his own trap, asked the price.

"Ten cents," said the shopman.

"All right, sorr," said Pat. "Roll it up; I'll take it."

The Star Spangled Banner

By Gellett Burgess of the Vigilantes

There are some People, at least, who have Waked Up to the fact that we are at War; and they are hard at Work doing their Bit—for Them-selves.

They are the Dollar Patriots. All they see in this national crisis is: What is there in it for Me? Three Cheers for the Red, White and Blue—there's Money in it! For them, the best Get-Rich-Quick proposition of the year is the Star Spangled Banner.

Are You going to help them or let them Get Away with it?

Do You believe in Wiping your Nose on the American Flag?

All this was what I said to myself when I saw in a Fifth Avenue window, on May the first, a handkerchief on which was printed the Stars and Stripes.

I went to a lawyer and had him look up the Penal Code of the State of New York. There he read:

"It is a misdemeanor punishable by a fine not exceeding $100, or by imprisonment for not more than thirty days or both . . . to expose for sale etc., any article of merchandise upon which shall have been printed, painted, attached or otherwise placed, a representation of . . . (any flag, standard, color or ensign of the United States of America or State flag of this State, or ensign . . . to advertise, call attention to, decorate, mark or distinguish the article."

The next day, I called at the shop and notified the proprietor that by his misuse of the flag he was committing a misdemeanor. As the next day the handkerchief was not removed, I notified the police. Summoned to appear the merchant did appear at the Jefferson Market Court for a hearing and upon my complaint was, after giving $100 bail, summoned to appear for trial at the Court of Special Sessions.

The only defense offered was that no possible purchaser could afford to blow his nose upon a 75c silk handkerchief. But it wasn't the customer's, it was the merchant's misuse of the flag that I was fighting. I was protesting against Dollar Patriotism.

At another shop on Broadway, I found a still larger exhibit of silk handkerchiefs—all decorated with the American Flag.

The merchant told me that, although they were illegal, he had a small stock and would have to sell them—or he'd lose money.

I warned him that he was liable to arrest at any minute but the only smile. Next morning I saw him rearranging his goods in the window. Then I was the one who smiled, through the plate glass. These handkerchiefs were missing. He had already been visited by the police—at my request.

How far was this sort of thing going, I wondered.

I took a walk through the retail section, looking for the Star Spangled Banner.

This is what I found: Handkerchiefs, paper napkins, neckties, hosiery, stationery, parasols, candy boxes, hats, cigars, dinner "crackers," rattles.

The flag was passed on the "crackers," so that when you pulled the ends to get the paper cap inside, you were forced to tear the flag.

The rattle was so made that at each sound a hammer knocked the flag.

Do You think that these are proper uses for the Flag of your Country?

You are not a Sentimentalist. You are not a Perfunctory Patriot. Your Country's flag is a Symbol, not a Fetish. But still, you are a little more earnest than you were a year ago. The Flag means more to you since it began to side activity with World Civilization and National Equality. You don't believe in using that symbol for the purpose of Advertising Goods.

The Dollar Patriots see nothing but Dollar Marks on the Flag—make them see Stars! Isn't it Up to You to teach them a Lesson? Yes, You! Get After the Star Spangled Banner—the shops are full of them. Put the fear of God and the police into the hearts of the Dollar Patriots who are Commercializing Old Glory. Keep your Flag Clean!

That's just One Little Way to Wake Up America to the realization that we're at War, we're in Danger and we're in a whole lot deeper than most people think. We're going to Catch it—endways and sideways—and head over heels and the Germans will Get us if we don't Watch Out!

What are you going to do about the Star Spangled Banner in Your Town. I'll tell you.

You are first going to look up the Penal Code of your State and make sure that such uses of the flag as I have mentioned are against the law. And then—

You are going to Get Busy. Now, aren't You?

48 years is a long time — practically a lifetime in business.

Two things enter in this Anniversary — Sentiment and Business.

Every Buyer had positive instructions to prepare for this months ago—and buy merchandise for it that will be productive of results.

Also were instructed that every article contracted for or bought must be the best of its class—whether a 25 cent item or a $500.00 one—and bought at a special price or not bought at all.

The instructions have been observed—carried out—the Buyers have done well — selected and bought merchandise that will be approved — and last, but not least, priced that will bring results.

Whether you live in Pittsburgh or anywhere in this Greater Pittsburgh community—where there are several millions of people within daily shopping distance of this store, Anniversary Week in June, 1917, is worth attention and attending.

The class of Merchandise—and the PRICES will make 6 days of business here that has had no equal.

A FRIEND'S ADVICE

Woman Saved From a Serious Surgical Operation.

Louisville, Ky.—“For four years I suffered from female troubles, headaches, and nervousness. I could not sleep, had no appetite and it hurt me to walk. If I tried to do any work, I would have to lie down before it was finished. The doctors said I would have to be operated on and I simply broke down. A friend advised me to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and the result is I feel like a new woman. I am well and strong, do all my own house work and have an eight pound baby girl. I know Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound saved me from an operation which every woman dreads.”—Mrs. NELSON FISHBACK, 1521 Christy Ave., Louisville, Ky.

Everyone naturally dreads the surgeon's knife. Sometimes nothing else will do, but many times Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has saved the patient and made an operation unnecessary.

If you have any symptom about which you would like to know, write to the Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Mass., for helpful advice given free.

GARDEN COLUMN

By National Emergency Food Garden Commission

Containers

You will be soon buying your preserved fruits in fiber containers says today's bulletin of the National Emergency Food Garden Commission.

Because of the scarcity of tin cans manufacturers are being urged to use fiber containers in canning food-stuffs. At present fiber or paper containers of good quality are being produced.

The price of these containers is much cheaper than glass or tin, consequently the canning manufacturers will be able to sell their products for less money.

When coated with paraffin, the fiber container makes a splendid substitute for tin and glass. These containers are recommended for the canning of many foodstuffs, including milk, cream, buttermilk, oysters, fruits, relishes, pickles, meats, soda water, salads, sauerkraut and olives. Coffee, tea, baking powder, spices and raisins may also be successfully packed in paper or fiber containers.

Because the army subsists principally on canned food, it is imperative that the strictest economy be practiced in the use of tin during the existing emergency. Housewives are urged to use paper containers in preserving fruits and jellies. Every housewife who will substitute these paper containers for glass and tin preserves is performing a worthy, patriotic service to her country.
